President Gives Approval To Marshall's Testimony

Declares Case Is Presented Competently

Secretary Marshall Questioned Again By Senate Probers

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(INS)—Senators probing Gen. MacArthur's dismissal said today that Defense Secretary Marshall has given the clear impression that the United States is now ready to "strike devastating blows" against the Chinese Communists in Korea.

By JAMES LEE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 10.—President Truman said today that Defense Secretary Marshall has stated the administration's case in the controversy over dismissal of Gen. MacArthur competently and truthfully.

The chief executive told his news conference he is well satisfied with Marshall's presentation of the reasons for MacArthur's dismissal and that the defense secretary has told the truth, word for word.

The president thus answered Republican criticism that Marshall's testimony has failed to demonstrate justification of the MacArthur ouster.

On Stand Fourth Day

Meanwhile, Marshall, on the Senate witness stand for the fourth day, testified that the question of crossing the 38th Parallel in Korea is both military and political.

Marshall admitted that recent statement by Gen. Ridgway, MacArthur's successor as supreme commander in the Far East, was not cleared in advance with the Defense department.

But he insisted that he saw no parallel between Ridgway's declaration that "it would be a tremendous victory for the United Nations if the war ended with our

Admiral Denfeld May Be Witness In M'Arthur Probe

By JAMES LEE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Senate defenders of Gen. Douglas MacArthur sought today to bolster his case through testimony of Adm. Louis Denfeld, another top commander fired for disagreeing with the administration.

Denfeld left his post as chief of naval operations when he failed to see eye-to-eye with former Defense Secretary Johnson on the distribution of navy and air force power.

Testimony Sought

A Republican member of the joint armed forces-foreign relations committee probing MacArthur's sudden dismissal by President Truman, said Denfeld would be asked to refute testimony of Defense Secretary Marshall.

Denfeld's testimony is sought in connection with Marshall's state-

Gen. MacArthur Says His Views Helped Morale

NEW YORK, May 10.—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur stated through his chief aide yesterday that his expressed views on far eastern policy had helped rather than harmed the morale of American troops fighting in Korea.

In reply to the charge by Defense Secretary Marshall that MacArthur's address emphasizing casualties had damaged morale, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney said that on the contrary MacArthur's statements had reacted favorably on the troops.

Gen. Whitney argued that his chief's "courage to call for measures designed to protect his former command" had a good effect on morale.

"Morale Never Higher"

Whitney pointed out that, according to newspapers, Marshall himself was quoted as saying the moale of American troops in Korea was never higher.

Gen. Whitney was asked to comment on Marshall's warning that Gen. MacArthur's program might provoke Russia to use her far eastern forces in Korea and Japan.

Whitney replied that MacArthur considers Soviet far eastern forces defensive and "if any one else believes them to be offensive, it is a matter of opinion."

The chief aide disclosed that MacArthur began yesterday to receive transcripts of Marshall's testimony, but "has not read a word of it". Whitney said he would brief MacArthur on the defense secretary's views.

Panama Crisis Reaches Peak

PANAMA CITY, May 10.—(INS)—The governmental crisis in Panama reached a new peak today when national police chief Col. Jose Antonio Remon pitted his strength against President Arnulfo Arias who assumed dictatorial powers Monday night.

Unless Arias complies with widespread public demands for restoration of the 1946 constitution which his government cancelled it was expected that Remon might force the president out.

National police under control of Remon fought pitched battles yesterday with supporters of Arias in which 30 persons were wounded. Other clashes resulting from the political crisis brought the total of those hurt to 80.

S-Sgt. Glenn Blews First Local Soldier On Rotation Furlough

Talking to a News reporter just a short while after arriving in the city this morning from Pittsburgh, S/Sgt. Blews stated, "I'm surely glad to be home, but I'll be happier when the rest of the boys get back home to their loved ones and friends. The war department is sending telegrams every day to families of boys less fortunate than I, but the families of the Reds are receiving them far faster than families of the U. N. forces."

WASHINGTON, May 10—House tax writers who voted Wednesday to boost individual income taxes three billion dollars take up today another three billion increase, aimed this time at corporations.

Both corporate and individual income tax increases were demanded by President Truman.

Yesterday the committee voted to increase individual income tax rates by 2 billion, 950 million dollars a year. This would boost personal tax levies to the peak World War II rates, which in themselves were the highest on record. About 50,000,000 persons would be affected.

The individual income tax boost approved by the committee brought to $3,280,000,000 the additional

Showdown On State Tax Bills Seen Next Week

HARRISBURG, May 10.—(INS)—Lawmakers settled back today for a weekend breather prior to a scheduled showdown next week on Gov. John S. Fine's tax program.

The slightly-amended income tax bill passed first reading in the Senate yesterday along with six measures increasing the corporate net income tax from four to five per cent and making permanent excise taxes on liquor, beer and cigarets.

A bi-partisan battle is forecast when the income measure comes up for third and final reading next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Five of the 30 Republican Senators have indicated opposition to the one half of one per cent income levy. The 20-member Democratic bloc is lined up solidly against it.

Need 26 Votes

Twenty-six votes are needed for passage.

Even if the measure passes, it must be returned to the House for concurrence on these Senate-amendments:

Exemption of railroad retirement benefits from tax payments, releasing of trustees of estates yielding less than $2000 a year from the necessity of filing reports and exclusion of housewives employing part-time domestic workers from withholding provisions of the act.

The House rejected the bill

President Truman Insists Acheson And O'Dwyer To Stay

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(INS)—President Truman today bluntly insisted that Secretary of State Acheson and U. S. Ambassador to Mexico William O'Dwyer will remain in their jobs.

The President told a news conference Acheson is not leaving his cabinet, and such reports printed to that effect are absolutely without foundation in fact.

Price Controls On Beef To Stay Says Truman

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(INS)—President Truman declared today price controls on beef are going to be enforced, and said cattle growers and other interests who are fighting the curbs are like all the others who scream if you step on their toes.

Mr. Truman told his news conference that he had approved the imposition of price ceiling on beef by Price Stabilizer DiSalle, and he expects them to stick.

He declared: If we're going to have controls, we might as well begin here.

The President said that the current screaming by cattle raisers, the beef interests, and their lobbies, is the same old fight that the country went through with on meat price controls back in 1946.

He said: It's the same old fight —when you tread on the toes of any one, he screams.

Mr. Truman declared: I okayed them and I'm backing up DiSalle.

Dawson Says He Never Used 'Any Influence'

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(INS)—Presidential Aide Donald Dawson denied today under oath that he ever used "influence" or "pressure" on Reconstruction Finance Corporation directors on behalf of loan seekers.

The White House patronage chief assured the Senators that he would cooperate with them "in every way so that the facts concerning my relationship to the agency (the RFC) may be clearly and accurately established."

U.N. Forces Also Eliminate One Seoul Menace

Last Immediate Threat To Seoul Reported Erased

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, May 10.—Allied planes blasted a big Red troop concentration north of Seoul today after United Nations ground forces routed some 6,000 enemy soldiers who had attempted to outflank the Korean capital from the northwest.

Remnants of the shattered North Korean troops northwest of Seoul ran out of sight, leaving many hundreds dead, as the last immediate threat to the capital was erased.

On the extreme western and eastern flanks of the 110-mile front, a Thursday night field dispatch said, UN troops have recovered approximately two thirds of the territory lost to the recent Red offensive.

May Plan New Drive

But a potential new peril appeared north and northeast of Korea's chief metropolis. There Chinese forces massed for a possible attempted resumption of the enemy's spring drive. Northeast of Seoul, UN patrols ran into heavy fire.

In most other sectors the invaders beat fresh retreats before the lengthening jabs of Allied troops praised by their top commander for having "hurled back the most vicious forces that have yet threatened mankind."

Along the east coast, UN spearheads lanced deeper into North

ment that the late James V. Forrestal, then navy secretary, urged speedy withdrawal of U. S. marines from China five years ago.

Marshall Still Witness

Marshall returns as a witness for his fourth successive day this morning for expected questioning on the surprise disclosure that President Truman on Jan. 13 gave MacArthur a special message ordering "great prudence" in extending the Korean war.

The presidential communication, it was revealed, emphasized that "in any event, the United Nations forces must be preserved as an effective instrument for the defense of Japan and elsewhere."

Marshall called the letter from Mr. Truman to the commander in Tokyo "an intimate outline by the president himself as to what were the factors concerned at the time". It followed by one day the Jan. 12 memo of the joint chiefs of staff which MacArthur cited as evidence that the joint chiefs supported his position for carrying the war to Red China.

Not Mentioned By MacArthur

MacArthur made no mention of the presidential message in his testimony, although he discussed the joint chiefs memo on the day before freely.

The new document was first mentioned by Sen. Saltonstall (R) Mass., who noted that it set forth the high policy factors involved in the situation at that time. The joint chiefs and other military officials, up to the president, were then considering tentative proposals which might have to be undertaken if evacuation or a beachhead in Korea became necessary.

On the Democratic side, Sen. Ellender (D) La., urged that the hearing be ended after appearance of the joint chiefs and MacArthur's rebuttal. He said that to extend the inquiry beyond that would enlarge the danger of exposing security secrets.

Korea while in the west and center the 38th Parallel was brought within range of Allied big guns.

New Blow from Air

Ranging far north of the battlelines, 24 American F-80 jet planes dealt a crippling new blow Thursday to the enemy's continuing buildup for an expected attempt to renew the stalled Red spring offensive.

The Shooting Stars screamed down upon the hub of Sukchon, 27 miles above the North Korean Red capital of Pyongyang, and destroyed a huge war supply dump, leaving it wrapped in roaring flames.

The material was covered by a camouflaged roof, concealing the supplies, but the fire and billowing smoke indicated the Fifth Air attack that smashed the Sinuiju airplane base in northwest Korea.

It came several hours after a twin-engined Communist jet made an unsuccessful attack on an American light bomber 30 miles north of Parallel 38 in the southernmost enemy jet penetration of the Korean War.

Crush 6,000 Man Force

Northwest of Seoul, in an area where South Korean troops crushed a 6,000-man force of two North Korean regiments trying to outflank the capital—the surviving Communists fled out of Allied reach.

The U.S. Eighth Army announced in its Thursday night communique that no enemy forces were encountered throughout the day in that sector west of the trunk highway running 22 miles northwest from Seoul to Munsan. North of Seoul, however, a "large" concentration of Chinese troops was discovered and heavily bombed by UN planes in an area east-southeast of Munsan, the Eighth Army bulletin stated.

The communique said Allied tank-infantry units thrusting forward in the sector southwest of Kapyong, which is 32 miles northeast of Seoul, bumped into "intense small arms fire" from Chinese forces screening a buildup in that area.

Continue Back-Pedalling

Elsewhere along the cross-peninsular front, however, the enemy's main ground forces continued back-pedalling.

The southernmost Red jet activity thus far noted over Korea was reported by International News Service War Correspondent Robert Schakne from the U.S. Third Bomb Wing Headquarters in Japan.

The dispatch said a new-type enemy twin-engined jet night fighter attacked a B-26 light bomber at dawn Thursday only 30 miles north of Korea's 38th Parallel. The B-26 pilot, Lt. Charles Wright of Seaford, Del., and his plane escaped unharmed.

forces in control up to the 38th parallel" and the statements which brought MacArthur's removal.

Marshall said "Ridgway was saying something to the encouragement of his forces." The defense secretary has testified that MacArthur's statements, emphasizing heavy casualties, might have had lowered the morale of U.S. troops.

Ridgway Justified

The cabinet member also declared that Ridgway was justified in his statement because "we have had no general public discussion regarding the 38th Parallel so far as the commanders in the field and the government here in Washington are concerned."

Explaining the political and military issues involved in the 38th Parallel question, Marshall said:

"I would feel that as to the 38th Parallel, the security of the army would be involved, as it was in the instructions given Gen. MacArthur on the first return to the 38th Parallel, after the aggression started there, and more particularly recently, after the withdrawal from North Korea to south of Seoul, and the return of the force under Gen. Ridgway to the vicinity of the 38th Parallel.

"There was a military factor of the security of that command, meaning that part of the command might have to move north of the parallel in order to furnish adequate protection against turning movements, for example.

"There was also the general political factor as to whether we should renew a movement into North Korea, a limited movement in North Korea. That was a political factor."

Dulles Not Consulted

Marshall said he does not believe Ambassador - at - Large John Foster Dulles, who has been working on a Japanese peace treaty, was consulted about MacArthur's removal.

He said that "I am quite certain" Dulles was not among those present at the White House conferences, who knew in advance about the ouster. But, Marshall said, "I cannot be positive."

Sen. Smith (R) N.J., raised the question of the effect of MacArthur's ouster on peace treaty negotiations.

Marshall said MacArthur's "relation to the peace treaty was discussed at considerable length." He added:

"However, the secretary of state was present to give his views in relation to that matter."

Smith asked if "there is any other American whose personal prestige with the Japanese government was in any way equal to that of MacArthur?" Marshall replied:

"I think it was generally recognized that his prestige with the Japanese people was not to be duplicated, certainly in a short time, by any other individual."

At this point, Smith declared that he couldn't see "why all the haste (on dismisal) was necessary." The senator added:

"Why was it necessary to humiliate him by this public discharge, without notice?"

Combine chopped shrimp, grated American cheese, beaten egg, salt, worcestershire sauce, dry mustard, vinegar and pepper. Toast bread slices on both sides and spread with butter or margarine. Place the shrimp mixture on the toast, arrange on a cookie sheet and toast in a hot oven for five minutes.

HOUSE COMMITTEE VOTES FOR TAX BOOST

revenue that would accrue to the government under the proposals voted so far by the committee.

Three Percentage Point Boost

The committee decided upon a three percentage point increase in individual income tax rates straight across the board. The result would be to boost the minimum tax rate from 20 per cent to 23 per cent and the maximum tax rate from 91 per cent to 94 per cent, the rates in effect in 1944 and 1945, when they reached their all-time high.

All 10 Republicans on the committee voted against the proposal.

The president requested a four billion dollar rise in individual rates, but no one on the committee even offered a motion to boost personal taxes that high.

Mr. Truman has asked Congress to vote 10 billion dollars in new revenue to offset a threatened deficit for the 1952 fiscal year which begins July 1.

Wants Excise Levies

In addition to the increases in corporation and individual income taxes the principal recommendation made by the president includes a boost of three billion dollars in excise levies. The committee has not yet acted on this recommendation.

In asking Congress to raise corporation rates by three billions annually, the president proposed a boost of eight percentage points in the corporate normal tax. This would increase the maximum rate from 7 per cent to 55 per cent.

The committee has been working on its new tax bill for more than three months. It hopes to bring the measure out of committee by the end of the month.

RIDGWAY SEES POSSIBLE START OF RED DOWNFALL

Praising the Eighth army's fighting qualities, Ridgway's message stated:

"Crest of Red Wave Broken?"

"I believe it is quite possible that history may some day record that it was these qualities in this army which challenged, met and hurled back the most vicious forces that have yet threatened mankind in its age-old struggle for individual dignity and freedom.

"It is, I believe, quite possible that because of this action history will record that the crest of the communist wave was broken against your arms and will to fight and that the flood of this menace, reaching its high mark on your front, thereafter began its recession."

The message was sent by Ridgway from his Tokyo office to Van Fleet's Eighth army headquarters in Korea.

In it the supreme commander thanked Van Fleet for the latter's congratulations on Ridgway's promotion to the rank of full general.

President Truman asked the U. S. Senate Wednesday to confirm the elevation of Ridgway to the four-star ranking.

UNION LABEL

LIKELY TO MAINTAIN POLICY

It is highly doubtful if the furore over Gen. Douglas MacArthur's dismissal and the investigation of Far Eastern policies will bring any change in the administration's strategy in Asia.

President Truman is said to be firmly convinced that any deviation from the present course being followed by the United States in the Far East would result in a third world war.

As a result, lengthy Senate hearings over the MacArthur episode and heated Republican charges in Congress probably won't sway Mr. Truman from his stand. The hearings will serve, however, to air the entire issue before the public and may indirectly influence the result of the 1952 presidential election.

The president apparently believes he can rally the public behind his views. He endorsed the Senate hearings and said he would make no attempt to gag MacArthur, indicating he wants the question taken to the people.

The present fight may turn out like the battle over troops-to-Europe. Although the issue was debated furiously in Congress, the administration went right ahead with its original plans. It will probably do the same in the Far East.

HYDROGEN BOMB PROGRESS

There are mounting indications that the United States may be ready to go ahead with advanced atomic-hydrogen bomb developments.

Some sources have reached this conclusion as a result of President Truman's creation of a super-scientific advisory board composed of leading scientists and A-bomb specialists.

Two of the new board's members played strategic roles in development of the atomic bomb and the impression is that the United States is marshalling the best brains in the nation to insure success for more ambitious projects.

Top secrets upon which the board will work include advanced nuclear fission projects, such as the much talked about hydrogen bomb which scientists say can be triggered only by a small atomic blast.

The two A-bomb veterans on the panel are Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, now director and professor of physics at the Institute of Advanced Study at Princeton, N.J., and Dr. James B. Conant, president of Harvard university. Top question of the day is: Will the fission of the top brains in the nation result in a hydrogen-atomic blast?

UNHAPPY FARMERS

The Soviet Union is plastered with statues and paintings of workers on collective farms, all of whom smile with utter happiness, while clutching a sickle in on hand, a bundle of wheat or a basket of fruit under the other arm.

Out of life on a collective farm, an opera was written, staged and performed at the Bolshoi Theater, Moscow, with Premier Stalin and several members of the Politburo in attendance. All concerned were bathed in the euphoria of artistic accomplishment until Pravda denounced the production as "false."

Not enough joy in the opera, it seems. So Alexander V. Solodovnikov, director of the Bolshoi, has been discharged, while the Soviet Council of Ministers designates his successor. Pravda denounces the composer, the librettists, the stage designers—in fact, all who had a part in this unfortunate operatic production.

The Bolshoe Theater in Moscow, built in 1854, was formerly one of the world's great theaters. Now its director has been fired, its artistic standards assailed, its staff demoralized. Artistic endeavor in the Soviet is a precarious undertaking.

REVIVAL OF NAZISM

That the problem of reviving Nazism has become a pressing one that can no longer be dismissed as insubstantial is shown by the results of Sunday's elections in Austria and in the West German state of Lower Saxony.

A candidate for president of the Austrian Republic running with the support of former Hitlerites received so many votes that neither of his leading opponents, representing the People's Party and the Socialists, was able to obtain the necessary majority, and a run-off will be required.

In the parliamentary elections in the British zone state of Lower Saxony, the Nazi resurgence was equally marked. Though the Socialists and the Christian Democrats led the balloting as expected, nearly 400,000 Germans voted for the Socialist Reich Party, which closely resembles Hitler's Nazis.

A bright feature of the two elections was the continued poor showing of the Communists, who polled only 5 per cent of the vote in Austria and less than 2 per cent in Lower Saxony.

But there is little comfort to be gained from a decline of the extreme left if it is accompanied by corresponding upsurges in the extreme right. Many Austrian and German voters no doubt expressed their dissatisfaction with present regimes by going farther to the right. But the hard core of Nazism remains in both countries and any signs of its expansion are disquieting and bear watching.

"Scientists Debate Artificial Rain"—headline. Sounds like a stormy session.

An Ohio court has ruled that any election in which more votes are cast than there are voters is illegal. Either that, or somebody's been guilty of mighty sloppy bookkeeping.

New Complexities Face Britain

The immense complexities faced by Great Britain in connection with Far Eastern trade in the light of the Korean war were underlined anew today.

Sir Hartley Shawcross, the brilliant lawyer who acted as British prosecutor at the Nuernberg war crime trials and who is now president of the board of trade, attempted to place the proper perspective concerning the situation before the House of Commons.

He was only partially successful. He had to admit that trade between the crown colony of Hong Kong and Communist China is on the upgrade.

Runs Into Sharp Aattack

And on the subject of rubber shipments to China from Malaya he ran into sharp attack from Winston Churchill. The Conservative leader asked:

"Would it not be better to stop it now completely and thus reach a satisfactory solution with our great ally (the United States?")

Being out of office and on the opposite side of the House, Churchill can enjoy the luxury of generalities while ministers of state must be specific in the extreme.

In this connection there are two points which are being discussed in London clubs with a good deal of warmth:

1—Would a stop to all Malayan rubber shipments, assuming it could be achieved, be sufficient in itself to heal the Anglo-American breach?

2—Is there any reason to believe that Communist China could not get all the rubber she wants elsewhere, such as Indonesia?

The second may be an academic point but touches on a particularly delicate issue. That is the transfer of profits from one colonial area to another, as it is certain the sales will be made and the profits continue in any case.

Press Is Unanimous

On this point at issue, the London press is almost unanimous in saying that no economic considerations should be allowed to affect Great Britain's cooperation with the United States and the United Nations in the world effort against Communist aggression.

Many London observers feel that the labor government has bungled its presentation of the case to parliament and has thus aggravated rather than improved relations with the United States.

Prime Minister Attlee, for example, began by saying that no rubber was getting through to Communist China and that shipments of metal goods were confined to "bedsteads and bicycles."

Later he was compelled to admit that a very considerable amount of rubber is still moving under export license and that items as big and valuable as locomotives are going as well.

And he, as well as Shawcross, made little mention of smuggling, merely promising that efforts would be made to prevent it although this is undoubtedly one of the most important factors at the present time.

Population Increases

The population of Hong Kong has increased enormously during the past year or so.

Many of the new residents were forced out of China by the Communists or by their own fears. Others—and there is no way of even estimating the number—are adventurers with no particular political or national allegiance who see in the Hong Kong trade quick and easy fortunes to be made.

There also is the fact that Hong Kong is heavily dependant upon the Chinese mainland.

All of the island's water has to be pumped across and most of its food staples also must come from Communist China. For the most part, trade in the ordinary sense—that is barring high finance and the like—is carried on by Chinese.

Over these, the British have only a certain amount of control. To deal effectively with every Chinese smuggler would be like counting the grains in a sack of rice. The same applies to Malaya, another place where war fortunes are being made and not necessarily by British or any others with a desire to promote the interests of the United Nations.

There is no question that Britain is determined to hold Hong Kong. This accounts for her diplomatic relations with the Peiping regime and perhaps for a certain amount of laxity insofar as shipment of vital materials is concerned.

It is a hard dilemma. The labor government has promised to resolve it and the world waits expectantly to see just whether this can be done, and how.

Panama now will be run by its president and cabinet with none of that annoying interference opposition parties give in a congress.

But Egypt has a better system than that... The king even ran his own wedding while the bride was 15 miles away.

She was notified by courier when the ceremony was over and not 'til then could she say "I had a beautiful wedding... I guess."

Then she went to join her husband... Probably the first bride in history who had to buy a "going to" gown as well as a "going away" costume.

Of course he could send silver and get in bad with the gold senators or send gold and get in bad with silver state senators... He prefers to send glass and let the pieces fall where they may.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

NATIONAL ETHICS ON DECLINE

The recent revelations of bribery in connection with certain college basketball players, and of connections between so many persons in local and national government with organized crime, have schocked our nation. These disclosures have been leading to criminal prosecutions and convictions, and the number of influential persons involved in the roundup, already appalling, manifestly will increase.

But, what is more insidious and far-reaching, is the disclosure that the use of personal influence to reward friends financially in a way to evade the law, by persons elected or appointed to serve in our representative government, is so widespread. Of course, an aroused public can "turn the rascals out." But how can we be sure there won't be many more new rascals by and by?

Philosophy Of Education

Are all these distressing revelations a symptom of something deeper and wider than politics? Might it indicate a general decline of moral sensitivities spreading throughout our population? Could it have any relation to the philosophy and practice of education at home and school under which most of our present adults have been brought up, and under which most children are now being reared?

There was a time when teachers supposed they should often talk with their children about what is right and what is wrong and did not hesitate to say, "This is right," or "That is wrong." They often used the word "conscience." They believed they could teach character with words as well as through good practice, when they had the esteem of their children.

Social Situations

But early in this century there developed a philosophy of education which said. "You can't teach character with words, you can do it only by practicing children in desirable social situations. Then they will just naturally see for themselves what is right and what is wrong."

Accordingly what is right or what is wrong is wholly a relative matter. There are no eternal principles of rightness and wrongness. The word "conscience" has practically disappeared from books and teachings on education at school or at home. Teachers in Sunday schools and character building groups have, like sheep, followed the few bellwethers. Even parents seem to suppose there is little use to talk with their children about what is right and what is wrong even in the most favorable family atmosphere. Moreover, parents have been led to suppose they should not restrain their children or require them to do what they don't feel like doing lest they frustrate them and warp their personalities.

Perhaps the apparent decline in national ethics is the natural product of our philosophy and practice of education. What do you think about it?

'TOMMY' GUN

"May Come In Style"

By HENRY McLEMORE

NEW YORK, May 10.—I have been called everything in the world except a fashion plate, but I think I may be called that before long. I look so awful that it is entirely possible I will come in style.

For 44 years I have dressed casually, figuring that I wasn't tall enough, or rich enough, or amounted to enough, to spend my savings on clothes.

It was not until I visited Louisville for the 77th running of the Kentucky Derby that I discovered that I was perfectly dressed.

Trousers Not Pressed

The Duke of Windsor had on a pair of trousers that I am willing to swear hadn't been pressed since 1915. If he hadn't been with the Duchess the chances are that he would not have been let in Churchill Downs.

His coat wasn't a real pretty thing, either. Only a former king could have gotten by with it.

What I am leading up to is that I, a working newspaperman, was probably the smartest dressed man at the Derby. My coat came off the rack and wasn't pressed. My trousers also came off the rack and also weren't pressed.

I forgot to put on a tie, which gave me the real carefree look that is so popular today. If I had been bold enough to leave off my shoes I am sure that I would have been the dead center of attraction.

Will someone tell me why men have adopted plaid for coats, vests, and trousers?

American men, I mean.

In all my trips to Scotland I have yet to see a Scotsman who looked good in plaid, so it is a cinch that American gents can't make plaid look good.

Makes Man Look Fat

Plaid makes a man look fat, and most men who can afford plaid waistcoats, plaid trousers, and plaid jackets, are a little on the stout side.

I must have seen hundreds of plaid outfits at Louisville. If there hadn't been a horse race at Louisville, a man might easily have mistaken the town for Glasgow or St. Andrews.

The women dressed a trifle peculiar, too. I have wondered a thousand times at least how women buy the dresses and coats they buy. They stand in front of a mirror, look their own selves straight in the eye, and pay real money for a hat that makes them look like a beach parasol. Every time I walk down Fifth Avenue I am tempted to stop half a hundred women and ask them why in the world they chose the dress they are wearing.

They undoubtedly tried their outfits on, looked in the mirror, said to themselves, "This is for me," and paid the old ready for it.

This is one column that my wife, Jean, will not read until it is too late for her to stop it. Why? I'll tell you. She does the same thing that the women I have mentioned do.

She stands in front of the mirror, switches around, and brings home an outfit that shortens her where she shouldn't be short, lengthens her where she shouldn't be long, and then asks me to congratulate her on her taste.

I always say she made the proper choice, and I hope heaven will forgive me.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

The late Ernie Byfield, boniface of Chicago's Ambassador East hotel, had his own way of expressing himself. A friend met him, obviously elated, on the street of a Swiss village one day. "Why so happy?" asked the friend. Byfield explained, "I just made a sucker out of the Alps. I climbed them in spats."

At the most recent banquet of the American Bar Association, a consensus was sought of the two legal quips most often retold. These won hands down:

1. A wealthy barrister retired and turned over his practice to his son, just graduated from Harvard law school. "Congratulate me, Pop," exulted the son a few weeks later. "I've completely settled that old equity suit for the Vanderfellers you've had pending for the past 20 yeras." "Settled it!" cried the father in disgust. "I left you that suit as an annuity for life."

2. A New York lawyer traveled to Phoenix to defend his firm's richest client. The moment the decision was announced, he wired his senior partner, "Justice has triumphed." The partner wired back, "Appeal at once."

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

'Faithful To Public Interest'

WASHINGTON, May 10.—So much has been printed in recent months about public servants who betray the public trust for favor and influence that the picture of Washington before the country could hardly be darker. The impression of a kind of Gomorrah on the Potomac is enhanced by those who seem to want to discredit not just one president or one administration but all government.

In this atmosphere it may be worth noting a public servant who has remained faithful to the public interest. The other day Oscar Chapman observed the anniversary of his eighteenth year with the Department of Interior, first as assistant secretary, then under secretary and finally secretary. This is one instance where ability has been rewarded with promotion to the top job that too often is handed out as a political reward.

'Such A Rarity'

As one of the very few survivors of the New Deal, Chapman is such a rarity that it would not be surprising one day to find him under glass in the Smithsonian Institution. And because he has held to his New Deal convictions he has frequently of late been a target for attack by those who believe that anything put forward after the era of Rameses II must be dangerously radical.

In these angry times conversation is likely to become a kind of growling match. On such an occasion recently one of the wealthy young men in the south, the inheritor of a comfortable fortune, was holding forth on the iniquity of Washington and the evils of almost everyone holding office here. Suddenly he came forth with this:

"Why, sir, I would rather have this country taken over by Joe Stalin than by Oscar Chapman."

It came as something of a surprise to the company present that Secretary Chapman wanted to take over America. The plot was unfolding, we were told, through Chapman's furtherance of public power development and the construction of publicly owned transmission lines from dams built with public funds.

Repeatedly, Congress has voted for both public power developments and for the construction of transmission lines. Through the power division of the department of interior, Secretary Chapman is responsible for carrying out the policies approved by the Congress.

Moreover, and this would seem to be in accord with proper government practice, he believes in the necessity for limited participation by government in the power field. If he were out of sympathy with the policy approved again and again by Congress, then he would not be the right person to administer that policy.

Has Entered Power Field

The government has entered the power field, under limited participation, in two ways. One is the yardstick approach which holds that since the power industry is in any event a monopoly, it is desirable to have some competition from other than private producers. The second is the need for government to accept certain social responsibilities and obligations which private enterprise cannot or will not for a variety of reasons carry out.

Thinking along this line has been behind the construction of TVA and the big hydroelectric dams in the Pacific Northwest. It is back of one of the most far-reaching developments in this country—rural electrification which has progressed until today more than 90 per cent of America's farms have power.

While this has been happening private utilities have greatly increased their sales of power. They are making the same phenomenal profits as other private business. They still own and conduct about 90 per cent of the entire power operation in this country.

American Approach

In the face of these facts, for anyone to talk about government "taking over" the power industry is a willful distortion of the truth. Those who wish to discredit any and all government try to tag this activity with the smear words, socialist or communist. It has nothing to do with socialism or communism, being an American approach to the role of government that we have seen repeated over and over again. One of the early examples was when the Federal government gave vast tracts of government-owned land to the railroads to help open up settlement of the continent.

Chapman is just now opposing the efforts of a coalition of Republicans and ultra conservative Democrats who have cut out appropriations to provide transmission lines to tie up with power projects built with public funds. He argues that to allow the private utility to buy the low-cost power at the dam site is to deprive the consumer of the benefit intended by Congress when funds for the project were voted and give the benefit instead to the private company. That is his duty and it is well to remember that there are men who are trying to live up to their obligations.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

In a tiny flat over a shop in Tonbridge, England, Prince Serge Belosselsky-Belozersky, departed this life a few days ago.

It matters not for the purpose of these observations that once he was a Cossack general, an aide de camp to the last Czar of the Russians, commander of a division of the Imperial Russian army.

Nor does it matter that he was an intimate of emperors, dukes, and princes.

What does matter is that after fleeing from his vast estate during the Russian revolution in 1917 and going into exile in England, life was finished for him.

He referred to his after-the-glory existence as "the life of a cabbage."

Let us forget about the prince as an individual and take him as a symbol.

There is an old song "Among my Sovenirs."

I can hum the melody, but I don't quite recall the words.

But I do recall that it is something about somebody who bewails "there is nothing left for me" but memories, and who therefore sits among his souvenirs and lives "the life of a cabbage."

I didn't know that Russian prince.

But I wish I could have visited him in that tiny Tonbridge flat.

And I wish you could have come wtih me.

Can't you just imagine his Royal Highness receiving us?

Probably he would have worn his faded uniform of a general. Probably there would have been a lot of gold-braid on it—somewhat tarnished—and on his breast would have been many, many ribbons.

He would have poured us tea out of a copper samovar.

Then he would have brought out the album.

He would have shown us pictures of himself on a prancing horse. More pictures of himself at court, perhaps with the Czar himself. Then pictures of himself with some beautiful women. Pictures, pictures, pictures. All of himself in the days of his glory.

The album closed he might have told us about how times have changed, how nothing is what it used to be any more.

And, as we left, he might have repeated his plaint, that this, indeed, is the life of a cabbage.

There are millions of us who are living the life of a cabbage.

The PAST is all that matters. There was everything that was worthwhile.

There in that PAST the world was a garden of roses. Today is but a cabbage patch.

But do you know WHY the beautiful garden of dreams has turned into a cabbage patch of reality?

Because that garden has not been cultivated. Because that very same soil which produced the lovely roses could have produced so many OTHER flowers, year after year, if the gardener had only kept on working the soil rather than just admiring it and himself.

It's too late for Prince Serge to do anything about his garden. But all you dreamers who live in a cabbage patch, why don't you get out the shovel and the fertilizer? I'm sure the cabbage will turn into flowers again.

U.S. Casualties In Korea 64,055

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(INS)—The defense department's weekly summary of American casualties in Korea today showed a total of 64,055, an increase of 1,256 over last week.

The new total includes 9,765 killed; 43,350 wounded, of whom 1,135 have died; and 10,940 missing, of whom 101 are known to be dead.

The total of deaths is tnus 11,001, including 9,119 army deaths, 1,605 in the marine corps, 171 in the air force and 106 in the navy.

The army has suffered 53,115 casualties; the marine corps 9,695, the navy 682 and the air force 563.

The weekly summary is made up of casualties where next of kin have already been notified, and lags about three weeks behind actual casualties in Korea. As a result, the summary does not yet reflect casualties in the big Chinese Communist offensive that began April 22.

Arrest 21 Police In New York City In Graft Charges

NEW YORK, May 10.—(INS)—A total of 21 New York policemen, including two retired inspectors, were arrested and booked Wednesday on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice in the gambling graft investigation.

They were accused by the rocket-hunting Brooklyn grand jury of accepting gifts from kingpin bookmaker Harry Gross to protect his $20 million annual bet empire.

All pleaded not guilty before Kings County Judge Samuel Leibowitz and were held in bail ranging from $7,500 to $15,000.

A second group of 51 officers was charged with being co-conspirators, but they were not named as defendants. Among them are five present and former top-ranking policemen.

All 72 men allegedly received gratuities of cash, fur coats, television sets and other expensive gifts to protect Gross.

The grand jury announced it had not indicted the alleged co-conspirators as defendants because there was no corroborating evidence that they received payment from the bookmaker.

Scout Council To Sponsor Trip To New Mexico Ranch

Lawrence County Council of Boy Scouts of America is this year, sponsoring a trip to the noted Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico, just south of Cimarron, New Mexico.

The ranch there includes eight base camps, 43 trail camps, 200 riding horses, and 200 pack burros, located in the mountains of northern New Mexico.

The local outfit will leave here July 20 by bus and upon arrival at Philmont, will take what is known as the "Kit Carson Trek." Leaders of the local group will be Charles Follette, and Charles Anderson. The cost for the entire trip will be $90.00 and will include transportation both ways, plus food and sleeping facilities at Philmont Ranch. The outfit will arrive back here August 3.

Only a few vacancies remain and those interested are urged to make their reservations at the scout office.

Johnny's Got Bullets In Head, Not Rocks

NEW YORK, May 10.—(INS)—It isn' right to say Johnny has rocks in his head—they're bullets.

The six-year-old horse was pulling a wagon yesterday when he collided with a station wagon. As the black and white pinto remained sprawled on the pavement a crowd began shouting "he's got a broken leg. Shoot him."

Patrolman Christopher Fitzpatrick fired two bullets into Johnny's head. A moment later the horse leaped to his feet, and pulled the wagon to his stable.

This morning Johnny was munching hay but an ASPCA agent will examine him to determine if he's in pain and whether a third mercy bullet should be fired into his head.

The agent said, however, that he thinks Johnny will recover.

Catholic Group Plans Pilgrimage

Plans for the 1951 Catholic pilgrimage to Canada and New York are underway with Mrs. Marie J. Metz, general chairman in charge of arrangements and reservations.

Sponsored this year by the L. C. B. A. Branch No. 467 of St. Joseph's church, the pilgrimage will be held from August 23, to September 2, inclusive.

The group plans to take an extensive tour through Quebec, Montreal, visiting all of the Catholic shrines, particularly the shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre.

At Prescott, Canada, the group will cross by ferry to Ogdensburg, N. Y., and the remaining part of the pilgrimage will be spent in New York City, visiting the shrine of Mother Cabrini, the Cloisters in addition to other New York tours. The return trip will be via the super highway.

These plans were made when the committee who is assisting Mrs. Metz in the arrangements, met recently.

Widow Leaves Fund For Feeding Pigeons

CHICAGO, May 10.—(INS)—The pigeons on Chicago's famed Michigan boulevard will get at leeast three square meals a week because $5,000 of a wealthy widow's estate was left for bird feed.

The will of Mrs. Emily S. Hulbert, who died at 90 in Chicago last April 1, also provided bequests for servants, charities, friends and her pet dogs but makes no mention of any relatives.

Her estate was estimated in probate court at $550,000.

The pigeon-feeding at two busy loop intersections (Michigan at Randolph St. and Jackson Blvd.) will be handled by the Chicago Anti-Cruelty society and officials of the organization said the aged widow had left explicit directions with them.

FIELD DAY TO OFFER PRACTICAL FARM HELP

The grassland field day, Tuesday, June 5, on the Crawford County home farm, near Meadville, promises to provide practical help for visiting farmers from Lawrence and neighboring counties.

Farmers will see experimental plots of grasses and legumes. The showings they will be making at the time may help determine choice of strain or variety of one or more species of new seedings. Now in their second year, these plots will be explained by research agronomists of the Pennsylvania State College who planted them. These scientists will explain the merits of the different plots (more than 60 of them) on the basis of present growth and for the whole two-year period.

These plots will be only one of many points of interest in a program starting at 10:00 a. m. and continuing until 3:30 p. m. Nearly a score of demonstrations and exhibits have been scheduled in both agriculture and home economics. Men and women are planning to attend. Many of them will bring basket lunches. Light refreshments will be provided on the grounds.

In addition to selection of best adapted varieties, emphasis will be on proper preparation of seedbed, seeding mixtures suited to individual farm program, improvement and management of pastures, new and better ways of making grass silage and hay, and the use of silage preservatives.

Scientific feeding of forage for its most efficient use in dairy and general livestock rations will be stressed. Modern forage machinery will be in operation. A wood chipper will show how suitable bedding material can be produced from waste wood and brush.

The human body is mainly composed of about 65 per cent oxygen, 18 per cent carbon, 10 per cent hydrogen and three per cent nitrogen.

Only Manpower And Machinery Improve Food Production

HAGERSTOWN, Md., May 10.—(INS)—Price fussing does not improve food production but manpower and machines will, the Hagerstown Rotary club was told Wednesday by Pennsylvania Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst.

He warned that the federal government, taking a lesson from experience gained with the farmer's draft in World War II cannot afford to make mistakes in manpower policies nor in the allocation of needed machinery and supplies to farms.

Horst said that the nation's farms lost approximately 5,000,000 persons during the last war to the armed services and hifgh-paying industry since has regained only about 3,000,000.

New Legislation On Annexations

HARRISBURG, May 10.—(INS)—Gov. John S. Fine on Wednesday signed legislation requiring a referendum among voters in connection with annexation of first class townships by cities and boroughs.

The bill, a reenactment of a law on the books 14 years ago, was cosponsored by Allegheny Republicans A. E. Beech and Ronald L. Thompson.

Barkley To Head Democratic Group In Denver May 23-24

DENVER, May 10.—(INS)—Vice President Alben W. Barkley will head a list of top Democrats slated for appearances in Denver, May 23-24.

The occasion is a western and midwestern conference of the party, to be followed by a meeting of the Democratic national committee on May 25.

Utah national committeeman Calvin W. Rawlings of Salt Lake City announced yesterday that the Vice President would be present at the Denver meetings.

Rawlings hinted that State Secretary Dean Acheson will be among the visitors and will deliver a major international scene speech. The word is that if Acheson doesn't come, W. Averell Harriman, special assistant to the president, will speak.

Colorado's two cabinet members, Agriculture Secretary Charles Brannan and Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman are expected to attend.

REDBIRD'S SOLILOQUY

Nowadays people don't go in for myths unless it may be in the telling of a cacth of fish, but it is more than likely that some of you may recall the one about Narcissus the handsome youth who caused the death of fair Echo because of unrequited love. But, Narcissus was not to get away with his philandering. Nemesis, the boss god, gave him the works in typical super-feature fashion, causing him to fall violently in love with the image he saw reflected in a pool from which he was drinking.

Following the same line of reasoning, are birds entranced by their own singing? Do birds sing because they desire to attract the attention of the gentler sex or because of the joy of living. For all we know, it may be a combination of all three or even more reasons.

One authority on ornithological matters declares that weather is an important factor; that birds are particularly demonstrative when the weather is fair. That, however, does not adequately explain the most beautiful concert of bird song which we have ever been privileged to hear. It was on a small bay in the north country. Toward evening the cold drizzle that had fallen all day long still persisted, but despite the wholly unfavorable conditions, eight hermit thrushes situated on as many points along the shore of the bay put on a concert the like of which we had never before heard. The feathered songsters continued their heavenly chant until nightfall.

On the other hand, a bird's singing may be entirely spontaneous, with no more logic for the outburst than there is for the arias which issue from the bathroom when some people bathe. It may be for the same reason that canaries sing best when placed in close proximity to the musical tinkle of falling water.

It would be difficult if not impossible to explain the so-called death-song of a mortally wounded swan. We had relegated that myth to our collection of ancient fables until research proved that a number of reliable modern observers have heard the song of a dying swan.

Daniel Giraud Elliott, a top authority on waterfowl, declared that he heard it once on Currituck Sound. A mortally wounded swan set its wings and, as it slowly descended, began its death-song and continued it until the bird reached the water. The song was plaintive and musical and sounded at times like the soft running of an octave.

Last Monday a male cardinal was seen perched on a nearby tree, singing loudly about what we assumed was his mate. Time and again he cried, "sweet, sweet, sweet". Then, after a brief pause he would utter a single, short note.

We were about to dismiss the matter as conventional redbird behavior when the bird left its perch to mount the window sill of the nearby garage. Much to our amazement he erected himself to his full height, appraised the elegant image he saw in the window and uttered a single enquiring note. Then, he first spread one wing and then the other, accompanying the action with a plaintive "cheer, cheer, cheer". The display of outstretched wings was repeatd a number of times.

If any bird ever talked to himself, then, that cardinal certainly did. However, we suspct that his performance differed only in manner from the one staged by a pugnacious robin when it saw itself in the same window. We like to think though, that the cardinal knew that it was he and accordingly expressed proper appreciation. Birds, like people, have personality.

State Goverors Asked To Aid In Catching Tax Evaders

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 10.—(INS)—Treasury Secretary Snyder today revealed he has asked state governors for help in catching tax-evading racketeers.

Snyder told the Missouri Bankers Association he has written all governors "making certain suggestions to follow up the work of the Kefauver committee investigation."

Snyder added:

"I have asked the governors as a public service to forward to the treasury any information obtained by local investigators that might be useful to the internal revenue service to combat evasion of the federal income tax laws."

Snyder declared both the treasury and state governments could benefit from greater cooperation in such matters, and expressed confidence the governors would "do everything in their power in this direction."

Treasury officials in Washington said the letters were mailed Monday, but declined to disclose the text.

The Internal Revenue Bureau is in the process of setting up 117 "racket squads" throughout the nation to investigate tax violations by gamblers and racketeers.

HONG KONG, May 10.—(INS)—Communist reports published in Hong Kong Wednesday claimed that more than 370,000 anti-Red guerrillas were killed, wounded or captured in Kwangsi province between January and April.

The reports carried by the independent newspaper Wah Kiu Yat Pao said that the activities of so-called "bandit" forces had increased steadily in Kwangsi since the Korean war began.

A Canton dispatch to the Communist newspaper Ta Kung Pao said the deputy governor of Kwangtung province, General Fang Fang, claimed 100,000 "bandits" were wiped out.

Anxiously Await Outcome Of British Elections Today

LONDON, May 10—(INS)—Conservative party leaders and socialists alike anxiously awaited the outcome of today's local government election in the county and municipal boroughs.

The conservatives were somewhat jubilant while there was some feeling of fear among the socialists.

Both parties have thrown everything into this rehearsal for a general election, and conservatives predicted the local elections would demonstrate a swing to their side.

For seven days the campaign has been fought in the towns and villages to return candidates to the 7,500 seats on local governments throughout Britain.

The elections started May 4, when urban or smaller districts went to the polls, and were climaxed today when 83 county boroughs and 309 municipal boroughs voted for representatives.

Elevator Operators Strike Is Spreading In New York City

NEW YORK, May 10.—(INS)—Eighty more office and loft buildings will be left without elevator services today as the AFL union of elevator operators and maintenance men extend their strike for wage and welfare demands.

A total of 66 office buildings in Manhattan were struck yesterday, but all but 10 of these had settled with local 32-B of the Building Service Employes International Union by late afternoon.

Once the office and loft buildings are signed up under a package agreement reached last January with the realty advisory board of labor relations, the service unions will walk out of 2,000 Manhattan apartments.

The apartment house walkout is set for Monday and will take 12,000 workers out of building serving 175,00 tenants.

Jewish War Vets Install

Officers of the Jewish War Veterans were installed at their annual installation services Wednesday evening at Temple Israel. Those taking office were: commander, Joseph Brown; senior vice commander, Edward Buntman; junior vice commander, Norman Shapiro; adjutant, Howard Love; quartermaster, Jack Schwartz; judge advocate, Gilbert Levine; chaplain, Sol Moldover; service officer, Bert Jaffe; officer of the day, Joseph Mirow; trustees, Jack Gerson, Morton Love, Dr. Henry Sloan, Ted H. Marlin and Morris Becker.

William Ungar of Pittsburgh, national chief-aide of the Jewish War Veterans, introduced the installing officer, Comrade Louis Hyde, commander of the Bellfield Post 299, of Pittsburgh. He installed Joseph Brown for his second term as commander of the local post.

Tributes Given

Master of ceremonies Morton Love introduced the guests present: Edward A. DeCarbo, past commander of the Catholic War Veterans post of New Castle and present national welfare officer of the Catholic War Veterans, and president of the Veterans' Council. He gave a splendid tribute to Commander Joseph Brown for his excellent work in the Lawrence County War Veterans' Council.

President of the New Castle B'nai B'rith, Attorney Maurice Levinson, was called upon and promised the full co-operation of the local lodge in the future.

Remarks were heard from Mrs. Henry Shapiro, formerly of Detroit, Mich., who is past president of the Michigan ladies auxiliary of the J. W. V.

Following the installation Bert Herowitz, national service officer of the J. W. V., whose offices are in the Veterans Administration building, Pittsburgh, Pa., addressed the assemblage. He spoke of the recent bills passed by Congress that benefit the veterans.

A social hour followed, and tasty refreshments were served.

Slightly Ruffled

PERFECTLY poised is model Mary Lou Donnelly, but the elastic faille swim suit she wears at Miami Beach, Fla. is a bit ruffled. And that, says the designer, is what makes it different. The ruffles appear on the pocket and at top of the attractive suit. (International)

The game of curling originated in Scotland before 1600.

Did You Ever Stop to Think Why A&P Coffee Is Custom Ground?

Grandma Knew the Reason!

Remember the wonderful aroma that filled Grandma's kitchen when she ground coffee beans in her little hand mill? Remember the wonderful flavor of the steaming brew she made from that freshly ground coffee? No factory-ground coffee could ever smell so fresh or taste so rich, because no coffee ground days or weeks in advance is so fresh . . . and no coffee made with a grind that's too coarse or too fine is so rich. Grandma realized that . . . and so does A&P. That's why A&P Coffee is kept in the whole, flavor-sealed bean till the very moment you buy it . . . then Custom Ground to your order, just right for best results in your coffee-maker. Try this famous coffee . . . you're sure to say it's the best you've tasted since Grandma's day!

New Harrisburg Bridge May Be Open By Winter

HARRISBURG, May 10.—(INS)—State Highways Secretary Ray F. Smock said today there is a possibility the toll-free M. Harvey Taylor bridge spanning the Susquehanna river at Harrisburg will be completed before winter.

Bids will be opened May 25, he said, for demolition of buildings to clear the way for the eastern approach.

The first pure food law in this country was passed by Michigan in 1895.

Bessemer Girl Scouts Conduct Court Of Awards

Bessemer high school troops 7, 8 and 9 welcomed parents and friends to their annual community program.

Dolores Pfeiffer announced the program.

Mrs. Wilbur Stanley was introduced as community chairman, who had charge of the Girl Scout cookie sale. She thanked all the scouts for their cooperation, and told of their success.

Marlene Engle was crowned "Brownie cookie queen", her attendant being Carol Burnside. The intermediate troop cookie queen, Estelle Natzic, had Ethel Donaldson as her attendant. The queens and attendants dressed in long gowns of pastel colors, then held court as the Brownies appeared on stage.

The Brownies danced "Booms-a-Daisy" and sang several songs, closing with a flashlight song, "This Little Scouting Light of Mine".

Tropo 8, studying troop dramatics, presented two short skits, "The New Arrival" and "Fair Warning"; also a short original play, "The Bake Sale". Senior scouts of troop 7 then presented a clever comedy, "Her Operation".

On behalf of the scouts and leaders, Mrs. A. G. Snyder thanked the troop committees and Mrs. Stanley for her untiring leadership the past year. Mrs. Ralph Engle was introduced as chairman for the coming year. Mrs. Snyder thanked the Bessemer Woman's club, who sponsor the scouts, for their contribution annually in helping the scouts to have the wonderful experience of camp.

Court of Awards

Rose Galletta had charge of the "color ceremony" at the court of awards.

Nine brownies received the Brownie Wings and flew to Troop 8, where they were invested by Mrs. Snyder: Marlene Engle, Charlene Collins, Josephine Kertel, Ellen Mehocich, Linda Percic, Marilyn Snezic, Karen Stanley, Darlene Swogger and Georgia Rae Young.

All the scouts received their membership stars for the year. Kay Nord, Cecile Kukich, Nancy Ribarich and Carolyn Boyt received their second class badges from Mrs. Dennie Mehoich, leader of Troop 8.

Mrs. Mary Percic, Troop 8 leader, gave Good Grooming badges to Sandra Bryan, Ethel Donaldson, Rose Galletta, Nancy Kiminkinen, Barbara Mehocich, Judy Olson, Louise O'Neil, Barbara Percic, Phyllis Stanich, Diane Stanley and Estelle Natzic.

Outdoor Safety badge: Barbara Mehocich, Sandra Bryan, Dolores Pfeiffer and Diane Stanley.

Senior scouts of Troop 9 received Dancer, My Troop and My Community badges from Leaders Arley Nord and Mrs. M. W. Cunningham: Barbara Stanley, Ida Spizzo, Phyllis Gennaro, Bruna Domini, Nancy Marangoni, Janice Verzilli and Barbara Klimchuk.

New senior scouts are: Nancy Kiminkinen, Judy Olson, Louise O'Neil, Phyllis Snyder and Estelle Natzic.

Singing "All Night, All Day" and "Taps" concluded the program. The scouts then sold their homemade cakes.

Choir To Present Special Program

BLOCKED LINES REOPENED

NEW YORK, May 10.—(INS)—Pennsylvania Railroad announced today all four of its main line tracks west and south from New York—which were blocked Tuesday by derailment of 47 freight cars—now have been reopened to traffic.

Service was reported nearly normal, with only slight delays occasioned by temporary speed restrictions in force at the scene of the derailment, one and one-half miles west of New Brunswick, N.J.

ELECTRIC COOKER

NEW YORK—(INS)—Pressure cookers are getting to be standard equipment in most households. This spring, you can find one that's electric. It turns off automatically so you don't have to worry about watching the clock.

Uncle Sam Seeks New Method To Get Income Tax

HOLLYWOOD, May 10.—(INS)—Uncle Sam today pondered other means of collecting income tax claims against actress Veronica Lake and Director Andre De Toth after an attempt to auction off their home fell flat.

The home, a 24-acre estate in San Fernando Valley with a three-bedroom, three-bath house as the main building, has been valued at $120,000. But the government received not one bid when Christopher Gilbert, of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, sought to open the bidding.

Silence met Gilbert's question: "Do I hear $66,000?"

After a brief pause, he asked: "Well, do I hear $65,000."

Again there was silence and the tax collector called off the sale. He referred the matter to the referee of the bankruptcy court, where De Toth and his wife filed bankruptcy proceedings on April 16, listing the government as their largest creditor.

The government seized the estate on April 6 for income taxes totalling $42,265.

The bureau said sale of the home probably was blocked by the fact that the buyer would not receive title for a year, with the De Toths having the right to redeem it during that period.

Health Talks

TOOTH AND CLAW

In a primitive age those individuals who had the best teeth and the strongest claws seemed to get along pretty well.

In this age of the world it is a good idea to take good care of the teeth and nails.

No one knows the value of a good set of teeth till he has lost them.

Clean, well kept nails are an asset to anyone.

The hand should be protected from dirt as much as possible. Sometimes a plastic coating helps. Sometimes gloves do a good job.

Perhaps it ought to be arranged that the very important people who didn't know Korea was loaded should hereafter be less important. —"Hartford Curant."

Current Oil Supplies Are In Excess Of Estimated Needs

DENVER, May 10.—(INS)—The economics committee of the Independent Petroleum Association of America reported today that current oil supplies are in excess of estimated requirements for the coming year.

A spokesman for the Department of Defense munitions board, however, warned the mid-year meeting of the I.P.A.A., in Denver, that loss of any imports "will cause our domestic production to bite into the small cushion now available."

Lt. Col. Ray W. Whitson, chief of the technical division for the petroleum program for the munitions board, said the nation had a 25 per cent oil reserve cushion for emergency expansion in 1941, but only 10 per cent today.

He placed average production at 6,150,000 barrels a day, as compared with 5,000,000 during the year of Pearl Harbor.

The oilmen's association, in the economic report prepared by a committee headed by H. B. Fell, of Ardmore, Okla., forecast daily domestic and export demands of 7,090,000 of all varieties of petroleum for April through September, and 7,885,000 daily from October, 1951, to March 1952.

Current total supply was placed at 6,695,000 barrels produced domestically daily, plus 900,000 barrels imported.

Col. Whitson called on the oilmen to step up drilling on new wells to 43,400 in 1951, to build the ratio of new reserves to oil actually produced.

Safety Commission For State Proposed In Senate

HARRISBURG, May 10.—(INS)—A 12-member Pennsylvania safety commission authorized to eliminate hazards by cooperating with all state agencies was proposed in the senate.

Members of the proposed commission would be state officials who would be authorized to select a director of public safety.

The bill, proposing $48,000 for expenses, was co-sponsored by Republican Senators T. Newell Wood of Luzerne, Charles R. Mallery of Blair, George B. Stevenson of Clinton and John G. Snowden of Lycoming.

Mallery told the senate that the recommendation was prompted by deaths of more than 90,000 persons and injuries to 8,900,000 others last year in accidents.

The director would enforce safety laws and exact the mandated penalties under existing statutes.

The commission would be empowered to launch a campaign, in cooperation with the state highway safety council, to minimize road accidents as well as to join with other organizations in promoting safety.

A monthly agenda plotted by the members would guide the safety program after a scrutiny of the accident trend.

Members would be the governor, the chairman of the Public Utility Commission, the superintendent of state police, the executive director of the state aeronautics commission, the insurance commissioner, the superintendent of public instruction and the secretaries of revenue, highways, labor and industry, mines, agriculture and welfare.

Will Cost Billions To Safeguard Water Supply In Nation

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(INS)—A government survey estimated that it will cost from nine to twelve billion dollars in the next 10 years to safeguard the nation's water supply from increasing pollution.

Federal Security Administrator Oscar R. Ewing warned that pollution is so seriously cutting down the supply of usable water for industrial and home users that widespread construction of purifying facilities will be required in the next 10 years.

The report issued by the Public Health Service estimated it will require 10,000 new plants to meet the problem of increased pollution steming from increased industrial production in U.S. cities.

Communist Radio Says North Koreans Make Protest To UN

TOKYO, May 10.—(INS)—The North Korean Communist radio reported Wednesday that Foreign Minister Pak Hon Yong has protested to the United Nations General Assembly and Security Council against the alleged use of bacteriological weapons by American forces in Korea.

The protest note, according to the enemy broadcast, charged that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters had "coerced" the Japanese government into spending 500,000 yen ($1,388) a day in manufacturing bacteriological weapons.

Pak's note said the charge was based on "documents" which the North Korean regime claimed had been seized from secret files of the Republic of Korea government in Seoul.

Bell System Reported To Be Working On Air Raid Alarm System

ROCHESTER, Pa., May 10.—(INS)—The Bell Telephone System is reported to be working on a state-wide air raid alarm system.

Ross L. Leffler, defense co-ordinator for Allegheny county, told a meeting of the Western Pennsylvania Civil Defense Council in Rochester Wednesday night that the system would flash alerts by means of red or yellow lights.

Leffler said the State Civil Defense Organization is considering installation of the system on a state-wide basis. The system is expected to be ready for use in about three months.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Manners In A New Manner

Most parents feel that children's manners are important. And sometimes, we spend a great deal of time trying to train our young hopefuls to act in a mannerly way.

For the most part, children learn to act properly by copying those around them. Fathers who always say "Please" and mothers who remember their "Thank you's" are the best guarantee that children will act in the same way.

But sometimes a little special training helps out. Nine-year-old Timmie, for instance, may be going to a party. He wants to act in the proper way. But he's afraid he won't know just what to do. So he and mother have a dress rehearsal.

Mrs. Brady plays the role of the hostess. When Timmie comes to the door, she greets him. Timmie asks how she is. When she asks him to come in, he thanks her and later steps aside so she may go through the living-room first.

We don't need to go into further details. The point is that such "play" rehearsals really help much more than verbal instructions.

And, of course, there are all sorts of other situations that can be played out. The first time a youngster goes to the store by himself or when he is older, applying for a job can be prepared for in this way to advantage.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Manners In A New Manner

Most parents feel that children's manners are important. And sometimes, we spend a great deal of time trying to train our young hopefuls to act in a mannerly way.

For the most part, children learn to act properly by copying those around them. Fathers who always say "Please" and mothers who remember their "Thank you's" are the best guarantee that children will act in the same way.

But sometimes a little special training helps out. Nine-year-old Timmie, for instance, may be going to a party. He wants to act in the proper way. But he's afraid he won't know just what to do. So he and mother have a dress rehearsal.

Mrs. Brady plays the role of the hostess. When Timmie comes to the door, she greets him. Timmie asks how she is. When she asks him to come in, he thanks her and later steps aside so she may go through the living-room first.

We don't need to go into further details. The point is that such "play" rehearsals really help much more than verbal instructions.

And, of course, there are all sorts of other situations that can be played out. The first time a youngster goes to the store by himself or when he is older, applying for a job can be prepared for in this way to advantage.

Senate Test Near On Plan For Combatting Communism Abroad

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(INS)—The administration's policy for combatting Communism abroad today gets its first Senate test since the historic appearance of Gen. Douglas MacArthur before Congress.

Sen. Kem (R) Mo., announced he will force a showdown on his amendment to cut off Marshall plan or other economic or financial aid to any country which sells war goods to Russia or her satellites—specifically including Red China and the North Korean Communists.

Kem is asking that Senate rules be suspended in order to put a rider on the pending 430 million dollar third supplemental appropriation bill.

By-passing the ban on "legislation" in a money measure requires a two-thirds votes.

The showdown could be avoided only if Sen. Hayden (D) Ariz., who is handling the money bill on the floor, and his colleagues decide not to raise a parliamentary point of order against the Kem amendment.

Churchill Demands Ban On All Rubber Exports To Red China

LONDON, May 10.—(INS)—Winston Churchill demanded today an immediate ban on all rubber exports to Communist China and won partial victory after a dramatic plea for full and closest cooperation between Britain and the United States.

When Churchill finished his address, Sir Hartley Shawcross, president of the board of trade, told the House of Commons Britain has decided to ask the governments of Malaya and Borneo to halt shipments from these and other territories involved.

Resumption of production at the Quality Tool Corporation in New Wilmington, which was damaged Tuesday night by fire, is expected to begin in about two weeks, it is reported by James A. McLaughry, president.

Mr. McLaughry cited the fine work of Norman Anderson, Chester Edmiston and E. W. Walker before and after the arrival of the fire department, and landed the citizens of the community for their fine spirit of assistance.

Potato Study Facts Are Told

What Happens After Spuds Leave Growers

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(INS)—Department of Agriculture researchers have been studying what happens to potatoes after they leave the grower's hands—and have come up with some thought-provoking conclusions.

They say defects in the potatoes practically double during the trip from shipping point to terminal market.

Growers and areas that sell relatively high-grade potatoes are losing money from this heavy quality loss.

The researchers point out that consumers prefer high-quality products and that better grade potatoes may increase consumption and reverse, or at least slow down the decline in consumption per person.

They found 40 out of 100 bags of potatoes were out of grade before they left the shipping point. By the time they reached the terminal market the out of grade bags totaled 56.

When they inspected the product at retail stores they found 80 out of 100 displays were out of grade.

Now the department is going to study ways of reducing loss and damage, how to maintain the quality of potatoes from the field to the consumer.

How do government agriculture officials run their own farms?

Part of the answer came during recent testimony by rural electrification administrator Claude R. Wickard.

Wickard, who runs a Carroll county, Ill., farm with his son-in-law, told the House Agriculture committee that electricity allows him to expand hog production without sacrificing too much labor from field crops.

Wickard says his pigs are farrowed about the first of February. They are weaned and on self-feeders by the time the busy field work starts in spring.

But this, farmers know, means they often come in very cold weather. Wickard told the congressmen that was the case this year. The use of electric pig brooders made loss from the cold negligible, however. The administrator said he was proud that more than 800 spring pigs came during this cold season.

Later the pigs are put in a clean alfalfa field with water piped from an automatic electric pump a mile away. Wickard said his hog production was just one example of how farmers can benefit from the electrification program.

Mrs. Agnes Skiles Retires On Pension

MRS. AGNES KEANE SKILES

After nearly 47 years with the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania, Mrs. Agnes Keane Skiles of 813 East Washington street, formerly chief operator in New Castle, has retired on pension.

Mrs. Skiles, who was educated in the New Castle grade and high schools, started with the company as an operator, working up through the ranks as toll operator, supervisor, evening chief operator, chief operator and district chief operator.

In 1926, she transferred to Pittsburgh as supervising clerk in the general traffic engineer's office, but continued to maintain a home in New Castle.

She has been active in the Telephone Pioneers of America, the Western Area Bowling league of the telephone company, and the company's Duplicate Bridge club.

Mrs. Skiles plans to move to California within the next few months.

SPANISH YOLK

CARTAGENA, Spain—(INS)—There was considerable justification in the clucks of satisfaction emitted recently by one of Gines Martinez Garcia's hens. Within two hours this biddy laid two eggs, each with a triple yolk.

New Toledo U. Head Formally Installed

TOLEDO, O., May 10.—(INS)—Representatives of 275 universities from the United States and foreign lands marched Wednesday in an academic procession at the installation of Asa S. Knowles as president of the University of Toledo.

Dr. Everett N. Case, president of Colgate University, gave the inaugural address and Walter Eversman, president of the university Board at Rutgers, installed the new president.

Jos. Gennaro Is Candidate

Seeks Democratic Nomination For County Commissioner

JOSEPH GENNARO, JR.

In announcing my candidacy for County Commissioner I believe that I should give the public my background so that they can judge my qualifications for the office. I was born and have lived all my life in Hillsville and attended Bessemer High School. I am married and the father of two children. In addition to my contracting business, I own my own home and other property. All my life I have paid my property and occupational taxes as they come due.

For the last seven years I have been Chairman of the Board of Supervisors and have spent the tax money honestly and efficiently. To satisfy myself that I am qualified to be a County Commissioner I checked the records at the Court House and have found that the county owns 26 bridges. My experience as road supervisor, in which capacity I maintained and repaired township bridges, well qualifies me, I believe, to take care of the bridges the County owns and maintains.

As I have had the responsibility of spending tax monies for road maintainance and other expenditures, I feel that my judgment is experienced enough to be wholly qualified for the office of County Commissioner.

I want you, the people of Lawrence County to know that I have been a Democrat for my entire voting life with no change of party. I have been a Democratic committeeman since I was 21 years old. For this reason I feel I am justified in asking other Democrats to support me in the coming nomination and am qualified to represent them as one of the Democatic members of the Board of County Commissioners.

Supervisors Ask More Tax

Assessments Low, Perry Men Claim

The county commissioners had a rather amazing experience Wednesday morning at the meeting of the board.

A group of township officials made the statement that assessments in their township, Perry, are too low, and that unless more taxes are raised for road maintenance, they cannot carry out a proper program.

The three road supervisors of Perry township, John Vellian, Roger Elliott and C. E. Cowan, appeared before the commissioners and asked what could be done to raise assessments in their township.

"Our assessed valuation is $492,410 and we have raised our millage from seven to nine mills," said they. "There has been a constant increase in new homes in the Wurtemburg district and people expect good roads to get in with their cars.

"After such expenses as insurance and necessary items of administration are paid out of the return we get (in express of $4,000) we have about $60 per mile left for maintenance. The state gives us $110 per mile but the total is not sufficient.

"There are $15,000 homes in the township assessed at $2000. We believe the assessments should be adjusted."

The commissioners explained that the books were made up for this year but that any new properties might be added if it could be done quickly. It was suggested that the assessors meet with the county commissioners.

In 1948 when the state surveyed the various counties, a figure was cited for each township showing the assessments against real value. Perry township was rated 28.81 per cent, that is, a property worth $10,000 is assessed in Perry township at $2881.

A check of some of the more valuable properties in the township show this figure to be high. In some cases, properties worth an estimated $40,000 are assessed at less than $4000.

SENTENCES THREE

Judge John G. Lamoree sentenced three men on Wednesday morning, two of them tramps.

Harry Anderson was held in the custody of the sheriff until arrangements can be made to get him into a veterans' hospital.

Tex Powell was ordered to go back to Youngstown, which he claims is his home. Each was fined $1 and costs.

Wayne Robert Jones, driving while his license was suspended, was fined $15 and costs and 15 days in jail, out in three days if the fine and costs are paid.

NEW DEFENSE SETUP

Under a new civil defense law passed by the General Assembly, some changes in the organizational setups in the counties will be seen.

Formerly the head of the county defense organization was known as a co-ordinator. Judge W. Walter Braham has been the co-ordinator for Lawrence county.

Richard Gerstell, state director of civil defense, has requested the county commissioners to present a name for county director in order that the governor might name him.

BEGINNING OF THE NORTHERN KINGDOM

ISRAEL REPUDIATES SOLOMON'S SON; CHOOSES JEROBOAM FOR KING

Elijah claiming the hospitality of the widow of Zarephath.

"Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."
—Proverbs 14:34.

Scripture—I Kings 12:16-33; 16:21-17; 24; II Kings 17:1-8; Amos 6:1-7

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Love of liberty and rebellion against oppression are not new to our generation. From earliest times people have risen in rebellion against tyranny and injustice, and have overthrown their rulers.

In spite of the wonders of King Solomon's reign, the people were heavily taxed to support the magnificent court of the king, and after his death they hoped his son and successor, Rehoboam, would redress their wrongs.

The older men of the kingdom had advised him to be a servant to his people and to serve them; but his young friends told him to be rough with his subjects; to tell them that if Solomon had been hard on them, he would be harder; "My father made your yoke heavy," said he, "and I will add to your yoke."

Rehoboam took his stupid young friends' advice and spake so to his people, and when they heard him, they repudiated him as their ruler, retiring to their tents. The 10 tribes of Israel were the rebels, the two tribes of Judah remaining loyal to their king. Thus was the kingdom divided.

There was a trusted former servant of Solomon, whose name was Jeroboam, who had been forced to flee to Egypt. After Solomon's death he returned, and this man was chosen to rule over the northern kingdom—Israel.

King Rehoboam of Judah gathered a large army together and was going to invade Israel, but the Lord forbade him. Jeroboam, however, was suspicious of Judah's king, fearing he would kill him—Jeroboam — and take his kingdom.

He did a very foolish and wicked thing. He made two calves of gold, set one in Bethel 11 miles north of Jerusalem, and one in Dan, northernmost end of Israel. Then he and all his people worshiped these calves of gold and offered burnt offerings to them. He feared that if the people went to Jerusalem to worship that they would be untrue to him.

Four kings successively followed Jeroboam, and then Omri and next to his son, Ahab. Both of these men also disobeyed the Lord and worshiped idols.

Then came Elijah, the Tishbite, man of God, and told the king that the Lord was angry, and that a great drought was coming upon the kingdom. "As the Lord God of Israel liveth, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, but according to my word," he said.

The Lord told Elijah to hide by the brook of Cherith, "that is before Jordan," and the ravens would feed him, and he could drink the waters of the brook. Finally, owing to the drought, the waters of the brook dried up. Then the Lord told Elijah to go to the town of Zarephath, and there he would meet a widow, whom He, the Lord, had commanded to take care of him.

He did as the Lord told him, and met the woman and she protested at first that she had only enough bread for herself and her son, but she did as Elijah instructed her, and while he lived in her house the barrel of meal never was empty nor was the cruse of oil.

However, the widow's son fell ill, and apparently died. For some reason she blamed it on the prophet. He took the child to his own room, stretched himself on the boy's body three times and prayed. "And the Lord heard the voice of Elijah, and the soul of the child came into him again, and he revived."

What did the mother say? "Now by this I know thou art a man of God, and that the word of the Lord in thy mouth is truth."

Punishment came at last to the kingdom of Israel. Amos prophesied its fall. He was neither priest nor prophet by birth, but a layman from Judah, a shepherd and fruit grower.

His ministry occurred about 750 B. C. He predicted the violent death of the king's household and the fall of the kingdom, also the fall of the sacred altar.

Amos made an impassioned speech to the rich and idle of Israel, they "that lie upon beds of ivory, and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall—those that were 'stall-fed'—

"That drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments: but they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph.

"Therefore now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and the banquet of them that stretched themselves shall be removed."

It seems that these arrogant Israelites did not hesitate to drink wine from the holy vessels and use the fragrant ointments that were supposed to be used only by the priests.

Sargon II of Assyria wrote, in his own words: "In the beginning of my reign, in my first year Samaria I besieged, I captured. Twenty-seven thousand two hundred and ninety persons of its inhabitants I took captive; fifty chariots for my royal equipment I chose. I made it (Samaria) greater than it had been before; people of the lands (I had conquered, I settled there. I appointed my governor over them)."

So fell Israel, because its people refused to obey the Lord.

Now a museum piece, the old-time can had a small hole in the cap through which the food was pushed during canning. A round piece of tinplate was soldered on to seal the can. ARE MUSTACHE CUPS RETURNING TO POPULARITY?

CLEVELAND—Mustaches, the kind that could be seen as well as heard, dropped out of general popularity along about 1914.

There are exceptions; some men still glory in hair raisers.

One of these is New York City's Police Commissioner Thomas F. Murphy. His "walrus," popularized by Presidents Teddy Roosevelt and William Taft, is so famous the style might return.

If so, an abandoned industry—the manufacture of mustache cups—would be revived.

Murphy was presented a mustache cup by the John Carroll University Alumni association recently when the commissioner came here to speak at the All-Jesuit alumni banquet.

The cup is the guard-type container with a bar across the top to keep the mustache from getting dunked.

There are many mustache cups in America, but most now are used as novelty shaving mugs.

John Carroll President F. E. Welfle gives cup to Tom Murphy.

DOES MAN TAKE WOMAN'S ARM?

"There has always been doubt in my mind as to when a man should take a woman's arm and when she should take his arm. Is it permissible for a woman to take a man's arm when they walk along the street?"

Answer: First of all, a man and a woman should not walk along the street linking arms, unless one is an invalid needing constant support, or an old and feeble person.

A man should offer his arm to a woman companion when crossing dangerous streets, walking down or up steps of a house after dark or when walking over a rough road, when running to find shelter in a storm. In other word, he offers his assistance whenever it may be needed. He should offer his arm to her rather than take hers.

A man stands aside to let a woman enter a vehicle, assisting her up the steps. In leaving a vehicle, he should step out first so that he might assist her to alight.

When she needs his assistance or he thinks she needs it, he should offer his arm. At other times, she is on her own

Question: Should a man tip his hat when meeting women members of his family or is this unnecessary because of their close relationship and intimate daily meetings?

Answer: He should tip his hat to any women he knows, regradless of the relationship and intimate daily meetings.

Plan Electronic Blackboards For N. Y. State Schools

NEW YORK, May 10.—(INS)—The New York Board of Regents has announced plans to install an "electronic blackboard" in every school in the state.

The board, which has charge of education matters in the state, plans a network of 11 television stations to broadcast to the school children.

The estimated cost of the stations is $3,500,000 and the board said TV sets could be installed in the classrooms for $100 or $150 each—"about what it costs us now to install a couple of desks."

Two of the stations would be established in New York City and one each in Rochester, Buffalo, Albany - Schenectady - Troy, Binghamton, Ithaca, Syracuse, Utica-Rome, Poughkeepsie and Malone.

The state legislature will be asked for funds for the construction of the stations but it was anticipated that program costs will be shared by public and private educational institutions and the localities.

Copies of the plans were filed with the FCC in Washington.

Garden Council Flower Show To Be Held Friday

Garden Council is doing it again! Between 2:00 p. m. and 10 p. m., Friday, May 11, the spring Garden club show, "Spring In Our Homes," will be presented by the Garden Council of Lawrence County.

Gardening is part of the living force in a community, an expression of New Castle's vitality that the garden clubs are not without honor in their own city.

The opening is not a social affair, but a democratic social, and open to the people, who in the past have shown interest in the show, not by attending alone but by carefully studying the floral entries.

The enthusiasm which sparks this opening of the May show is catching, it isn't surprising when one sees the show. New Castle floral lovers are both gifted and prolific.

Apparently variety in flowers is encouraged in New Castle garden flower lovers, giving the spring show popular appeal. There is no one trend.

An accredited out-of-town judge will judge the exhibits, swaying between competent and thin, anemic will o' the wisp flower arrangements. Last year set a large attendance. Let New Castle break that record this year, May 11, 2 to 10 p. m. in the Trinity Episcopal church.

Industrial Output Reported Increased

PHILADELPHIA, May 10.—(INS)—The Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia reported Wednesday that industrial output and employment increased during March in the third federal reserve district.

Department store sales and construction awards declined, while bank deposits and consumer prices were unchanged in that period, the bank said.

The durable goods industries were largely responsible for the rise in production in Pennsylvania factories, the bank noted, but operation in soft-goods plants also advanced slightly. As activity increased, individual pay checks grew fatter and company payrolls larger.

Unscrupulous Home Builders Targets Of Bill

HARRISBURG, May 10.—(INS)—Unscrupulous home builders are the targets of a bill before the General Assembly.

Introduced by Rep. Louis J. Amarando (D) Philadelphia, the measure calls for $1,000 fine or a year imprisonment or both for any contractor who sells or options a home before it is ready for occupancy.

Amarando believes passage of the bill would halt what he labels "widespread abuses" of some home builders who receive partial or full payment for a home and then fail to deliver according to specifications.

He said he has heard of many instances of prospective purchasers being dissatisfied with homes which have not met promises or expectations. And, he said, once they make settlement payments, there is no way for them to back out.

There are other cases in which buyers have been bilked out of savings which they intended to put into a home, according to Amarando.

CHILD DETENTION

BERLIN—(INS)—East German refugees today reported the detention of "numerous" youngsters, 10 to 14 years old, in Soviet zone concentration camps. Many others of similar age have already been deported to the Soviet Union, these informants said.

New Castle High Host At WPIAL Regional Track Meet Friday

Seven Schools To Compete In Taggart Stadium Meet

New Castle will be host team Friday at Taggart stadium at the WPIAL regional track meet, which will include teams from Farrell, Ambridge, Aliquippa, Beaver, Ellwood City, Butler, and New Castle.

Starting time for the meet is scheduled at 2 o'clock. Boys finishing in the first three places in each event will qualify for the WPIAL championship meet at Canonsburg, May 19.

New Castle Defending Champs

New Castle is defending champion of the region, having won the meet last year with a total of 56½ points. Ambridge was runner-up with 45, followed by Butler with 40 and Farrell 38½.

The Canes will again be favored to cop the regional toga, with the same squads as last year furnishing the greatest opposition.

New Castle is given little chance of picking up any points in the dashes, however. Those events will be a battle between Farrell, Butler, and Aliquippa.

McCoy To Compete

Julius McCoy of Farrell, who reported for track earlier this week, is defending champ in both the 100 and 220, and should receive most of his opposition from teammate Ron Crosby, Bob Livitski of Ambridge and Griffith and Kline of Butler.

In the middle distances, the Canes are given a better chance, with Ron Bailey in the 440 and Chuck Sampson in the 880. Bailey's chief opposition seems to be from Kenney and Jones of Ambridge and Franz of Beaver. Bob Gross of Ambridge and Yakell of Farrell are top contenders along with Sampson in the 880.

The mile run should be one of the finest of the day, with Dick Rapson of New Castle, Wayne Snyder of Butler and Bob Gross of Ambridge leading the way. All three have been clocked in 4:54 this season. Rapson and Snyder finished in a dead heat in the event last Friday. Gross will probably rule as slight favorite.

Bill Boak and Bill Buckner, of New Castle, will receive their chief competition in the high hurdles from Ballock of Farrell, Wetzel of Butler and Gagliardo of Ambridge. Boak finished one step ahead of Ballock last Friday to win the event.

Seybert Favored

Gary Seybert, of Butler, is favored to win the low hurdles without too much opposition. The Golden Tornado is described by Coach Emil Rosenzweig as one of the finest in this event in the area.

In the 880-yard relay, Butler, New Castle and Ambridge have posted top times. New Castle edged Btuler last Friday, Ambridge beat New Castle last Tuesday, but Butler has posted the fastest time of all three in an earlier meet.

New Castle is favored to win the mile relay, holding wins over both Butler and Aliquippa, other top contenders.

In the field events is where the Hurricanes are again expecting to pick up quite a few points. Competition is expected to be close in most of these events, but with New Castle having better balance than the others.

The Gerson trophy a beautiful prize, will be awarded to the winning team at the conclusion of the meet.

MEET CANCELLED

The track meet at Struthers, scheduled for yesterday afternoon, was cancelled due to state baseball playoffs in Ohio, it is reported by Robert Mills, faculty manager.

It was also announced that the scheduled golf match with Sharon Friday has been re-scheduled for Wednesday afternoon at Castle Hills.

Indians Scalp Youngstown, Toles, Miskiewicz Hit Homers

Tribe Outlasts A's, Score 16-12

Joe Miskiewicz Winning Hurler

Power again asserted itself, in the camp of the New Castle Indians, current leaders of the Mid-Atlantic heap, as the Tribesmen outlasted Youngstown A's in a 16-12 game, at Idora Park last night.

It was a "donybrook" to end all "donybrooks" as the Indians came from behind a 11 to 6 deficit in the eighth inning, to emerge with nine runs on five hits and seven walks, and ultimate victory.

Rookies Steal Limelight

Two New Castle Indian rookies stole the show at Youngstown last night—Ted Toles, Newton Falls, O., young Negro first sacker continued his terrific hitting getting a single, double and home run to drive in five tallies, and young 18-year-old Joe "Fireman" Miskiewicz, Waterport, Mass., not only did a swell job of relief hurling for four innings, but cracked a home run over the right-field wall in his first time at bat in a Mitidle-Atlantic League game, and had two runs driven in.

Youngstown's power at the plate was supplied by the veteran Major Leaguer Rudy York, and Manager Mike Garbark, York poling a 425 foot left field fence home and a double to account for four of the Youngstown runs batted in. Garbark drove in three with a pair of doubles.

Youngstown used four hurlers to try and stem the Indians attack, but failed. Manager Al Milnar used three hurlers, Zedalis, Miskiewicz and Ciske. Ciske provided the stopper in the final two innings in a nice relief effort.

Play Again Tonight

Walt Kowalski, Gene Bilo and Joey Frisina had two hits apiece for the Indians, all singles. Bill Horne had a double as his contribution. Horne suffered a cut on his cheek in the second inning when he tagged Robinson out at the plate on a slide trying to score. Horne remained in the game.

Tonight the Indians will return to Idora Park for the second game of the series, leading the league by a game and a half over the Erie Sailors, who were idled by rain at Niagara Falls last night.

Manager Milnar has assigned the pitching chore to Bennie Rossman tonight.

Game time at Youngstown is 8:15 o'clock.

Meet The Indians

BERNARD JAMES SAKANICH, WHITTAKER, PA.—Better known to his mates as "Bernie," the 19-year-old rookie catcher of the New Castle Indians is destined to have a great future ahead of him in baseball.

The young receiver 6 foot 1 inch and weighing 195 pounds, is solid built, and the ideal type for a catcher. He began his baseball career on the sandlots of the Pittsburgh area, playing in the Pittsburgh City League and the Greater Pittsburgh League. This is his first experience in organized baseball.

Sakanich was recommended to the Cleveland Indians by scout Clarence "Tex" Riffel, and had a month's training at Daytona Beach, where he caught the eye of Manager "Al" Milnar of the New Castle Indians. His hobbies outside of baseball are—swimming, fishing and hunting when he can find time from his winter- job of working in the stereotyping room of the Daily Messenger newspaper at Homestead. His ambition is to make the "big show" in baseball. Bernie is not married.

Teamsters, SSBT, Win League Games To Remain Unbeaten

South Side Board of Trade pulled off a mild surprise in city softball circles last night by pushing across a winning run in the bottom half of the seventh to nudge Ross-Morelli, 7-6.

Suzow who relieved McFarland in the fifth was charged with the loss and Duda picks up the win. Ludovici banged out a pair of triples for SSBT.

THERE WAS A TIME ONCE, according to John Barrington of the INS, when pro golfers were not considered on a very high social plane. They lived in third-class hotels and ate in beaneries. He was told by Freddie McLeod, 69, that in 1913, they had to eat by the side of a road in Boston, and in 1914 the golfers were assigned to a stable during a Chicago meet. Walter Hagen struck a blow at the system by hiring a limousine, with chauffeur, who drove the car on the course and Walter undressed in the limousine. He refused to set foot inside the stable. When the Massachusetts Open was held in 1915, Tom McNamara refused to play at Brookline, unless all players were moved out of the stables. The Yanks may release Joe Page, hailed two seasons ago as the game's greatest relief pitcher. . . . Satchel Paige who flung for the Cleveland Indians in 1948-49 has joined the Chicago Giants in the Negro American league. . . . Jack Amiel bought Count Turf, Derby winner, for $4,500. The Count paid Amiel back many times at Louisville Saturday. . . . George Sveda, Farrell high halfback, is slated for Cincinnati U., according to reports.

Lopat-Bickford Pitch Victories

Indians And Reds Are Victims

By HOWARD SIGMAND
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, May 10.—It probably isn't true that Lefty Ed Lopat could beat the Cleveland Indians pitching righty — but don't bet against it.

The chubby, 32-year-old New York Yankee southpaw is tough enough for the rest of the American League. But when it comes to Cleveland, he's just down-right invincible.

Lopat the pitcher and hitter downed the Indians, 9 to 2 last night with a six-hitter for his fifth straight win. Just to make things more difficult for Al Lopez and his Tribe, Steady Eddy slapped loser Bob Lemon for a two-run single and a three-run homer.

Lemon was charged with his second defeat in five decisions.

Bickford Wins Fifth

Another pitcher to score an impressive fifth win of the season last night was Vern Bickford of the Boston Braves, leaders in the National League.

Bickford won his fifth in a row after dropping the season opener by blanking the Cincinnati Reds, 4 to 0 on a sparkling two-hitter.

Back in the American League, it was pitching that finally caught the high-flying Washington Senators. The pitcher in this case was Prince Hal Newhouser of the Detroit Tigers .Lefty Hal set the Nats down, 4 to 0 on seven scattered hits.

The Red Sox-White Sox game was rained out and the Philadelphia Athletics downed the St. Louis Browns, 8 to 2.

It rained base hits at the Polo Grounds where the New York Giants went on a 21-hit rampage and smashed the St. Louis Cardinals, 17 to 3.

Phils Edge Pirates

Jim Konstanty scored his first victory of the season when the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 5 on Ed Pellagrini's tenth-inning single.

A timely two-run double by Cal Abrams, good eight inning relief pitching by Clyde King and the hitting and fielding of Duke Snider combined to produce a 5 to 4 win for the Brooklyn Dodgers over the Chicago Cubs.

Feller May Pitch Again On Monday

CLEVELAND, May 10.—(INS)—Bob Feller, recovering from scald burns and a lame back, hopes to return to action by Monday night when the Cleveland Indians invade New York for a game against the Yanks.

Feller was scalded from the waist down in the Clevealnd clubhouse Tuesday while filling the whirlpool bath, a deep tank which allows for almost complete immersion of the body. He dropped the hose and suffered first and second degree burns.

Those Responsible For R.O.K. Rout Are To Be Punished

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, May 10—(INS)—South Korean President Syngman Rhee said today that his government will punish "those responsible" for the recent rout of the Sixth ROK (Republic of Korea) Division.

The 76-year-old president said his defense authorites are investigating the division's collapse. He implied that they are giving special attention to the possibility that Communists had infiltrated the front-line troops.

(Steinberg reported in an exclusive dispatch last week that Ninth Corps Commander Maj. Gen. William M. Hoge suspected Communist infiltration in the Sixth ROK ranks.)

Rhee spoke to reporters as he changed planes during a front-line visit to two Korean divisions.

Announce Enlistment Of Two In Air Force

New Castle U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station announced today that Patsy L. Colaluca, 1203 Croton avenue, and Victor A. Galmarini, 809 E. High street, New Castle, have enlisted in the United States Air Force for a period of four years and are now taking their basic training, before being assigned to technical school ing or specializied training.

M/Sgt. Falls stated that because the young men of Lawrence county are enlisting rather than being drafted, he has obtained a larger quota, and now has opening for immediate enlistment in both the Regular Army and the United States Air Force, as well as vacancies in the airborne.

Young men between the age 17-34 who have not had prior service are invited to inquire at Room 202 Post Office Building, for further information.

Graduate Party Plans Progress

Plans for the graduate party for the seniors of New Castle high school are nearing completion, Chairman Sam Frank said today.

"We now have approximately $1100 in hand," said Mr. Frank, "not enough to finance the entire party but a long way on the road. Within the next week we hope that parents of graduates who have not contributed to the fund will do so. The committee would be glad to receive contributions from any citizen interested in the party."

The party will be held on the night of May 29 as an addition to the graduation dinner held for the senior class. The purpose of the party is to provide sufficient entertainment of quality that the students will remain together instead of breaking up into many small parties and driving the highways.

Such a plan has been used successfully in many cities for a number of years. Ellwood City has used the plan for a number of years. Mt. Lebanon, Farrell and other cities in western Pennsylvania have found such a plan works. It was used here in 1950 for the class of last year and found to be successful.

County Firemen In Dinner Meeting Wednesday Evening

Lawrence county firemen and their wives enjoyed a chicken and biscuit dinner Wednesday evening in connection with the monthly meeting of the association with the Shenango township department as hosts. The ladies of the auxiliary served the delicious dinner. There were 100 in attendance.

A short business meeting followed, when various routine matters were discused. The matter of securing a net to place in streams in case of drownings was again discussed, and a committee consisting of George Fisher and Tom West was named to confer with the Red Cross on the matter.

The next meeting will be in June with the Chewton department as hosts.

Square dancing occupied the balance of the evening.

Bessemer Musicians To Perform Friday

Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Bessemer High school auditorium the band and chorus will present a special musical program and demonstration under the direction of Miss Ann Scarazzo, musical director for the school. The presentation is open to the public and will demonstrate the work of the music department since the opening of school last fall.

Britain To Permit Malaya To Export Rubber To Russia

LONDON, May 10.—(INS)—The House of Commons was told today that Malaya will be permitted to export 6,000 tons of Rubber sold to Russia before export controls were introduced early in April.

The announcement was made by James Dugdale, minister of state for the colonies.

Dugdale also revealed that Malaya exported 7,000 tons of rubber to Communist China in March.

Diplomatic observers in London meanwhile reported that Britain is ready to impose tighter controls over exports to Red China but balks at a complete economic blockade for fear that Hong Kong would be starved out.

These sources said that Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison is urging the cabinet to agree to a "stricter interpretation" of what constitutes war material and should not, therefore, be exported to China.

A final decision reportedly has not been reached.

Set Friday For Final Session Of Cub-Leaders Course

Pack financing will be discussed by Roy Guthrie, Cub Master of Pack 11, Ellwood City; and record reports, and registration procedures by Mrs. Mae Otto, den mother of Pack 50, New Castle, and J. C. Hildebrand, County scout executive.

Certificates for completion of the course will be presented at the conclusion of the session to the more than 50 members who have been attending the course.

LEGAL NOTICES

Resolution

Whereas, an Act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, approved June 25, 1947, being Act No. 481, and its supplements and amendments, authorizes boards of school districts of the fourth class to levy, assess, and provide for the collection of certain taxes on persons, transactions, occupations, privileges and personal property within the limits of such school districts as the said boards may determine, subject to certain exceptions and limitations therein set forth, and

WHEREAS, pursuant to the authority conferred by the said Act, and its supplements and amendments, it is the intention of the Board of School Directors of the School District of the Township of Neshannock, Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, at a stated meeting on Tuesday, May 29th, 1951 at 8:00 P.M., to adopt a Resolution assessing, levying, and providing for the collection of a tax at the rate of one per cent of the value thereof, which rate of taxation expressed in dollars and cents amounts to One Dollar ($1.00) on every One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) of such valuation, for general revenue purposes, to-wit, the general purposes of the school district as permitted by law, on all salaries, wages, commissions and other compensation earned on and after July 1, 1951, by residents of the said School District, and irrespective of where the said services are performed or work done; and on the net profits and income earned on and after July 1, 1951 of business, professions, or other activities conducted or carried on by such residents, irrespective of where the said profits are earned.

The reason which in the judgment of the said School Directors necessitates the imposition of the tax is the need for additional revenue for school purposes. The amount of revenue estimated to be derived from the tax is Twenty-eight Thousand Dollars ($28,000.00) for the school or fiscal year beginning July 1, 1951.

The said Resolution imposing the said tax shall go into effect thirty (30) days after its adoption and within the said thirty (30) days, taxpayers aggrieved by the Resolution shall have the right to appeal therefrom to the Court of Quarter Sessions of Lawrence County upon giving bond with sufficient security in the amount of Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) approved by the Court to prosecute the appeal with effect and payment of costs. The petition shall set forth the objections to the tax and the facts in support of such objections and shall be accompanied by the affidavits of the petitioners that the averments of the petition are true and the petition is not filed for the purposes of delay.
